2026 ANNUAL REPORT

DEAR FRIENDS,

At Heartly House, we often talk about meeting survivors where they are, because the truth is that every journey to safety, healing, and hope is unique.

For some, the path begins with calling our 24/7 hotline amid a crisis. For others, it starts with a 911 response, a conversation with a healthcare provider, a trusted friend's recommendation, or a presentation delivered by our Community Engagement and Prevention team. Sometimes a school counselor, a faith leader, a law enforcement officer, or community partner can help with that first step toward safety.

These community connections make our work possible and ensure that survivors can access support when they need it most. While every journey is different, our commitment remains the same: whenever someone reaches out for help, Heartly House is here and ready to help.

Over the past year, our partnerships have continued to grow, and together, we have built a stronger, more connected network of support for survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault, child abuse, and human trafficking.

This annual report reflects more than statistics and milestones—it tells the story of a community united by compassionate collaboration and a shared belief that every person deserves safety and dignity. Each survivor we support is also a representation of the collective effort of countless individuals and organizations working toward a common goal.

As you read these pages, I hope you will see that whether you are a donor, volunteer, advocate, partner, or friend, you are an important part of this work.

Thank you for helping us expand pathways to hope, strengthen our community, and ensure that survivors know they do not have to walk their journey alone.

With gratitude,

NIKI THRASH
Executive Director

OUR IMPACT

Our clients' stories are not easy to tell.

They happen in the shadows, or behind closed doors. They are stories of fear, violence, trauma, and unimaginable courage.

Since 1979, Heartly House has stepped into those shadows to walk alongside survivors as they reclaim their lives. Every day, our dedicated staff and volunteers meet survivors where they are to offer a path forward.

But this work is never done alone. Together with the Frederick Police Department, the Frederick County Sheriff's Office, Frederick Health Hospital, Frederick County Public Schools, the Maryland Network Against Domestic Violence, nonprofit partners, and countless community members, we create a network of protection and hope for those who need it most.

The impact you will read about on these pages belongs to all of us because when an entire community responds, lives are transformed.

CRISIS RESPONSE AND COORDINATION

CRISIS SERVICES HOTLINE

In 1979 our 24/7 Hotline and Crisis Services was created with a simple but powerful promise: no one facing violence, abuse, or crisis should have to face it alone.

Whether someone reaches out in the middle of the night, after an encounter with law enforcement, through a healthcare provider, or because a trusted friend shared our number, every call is answered with compassion, respect, and hope.

For many survivors, that first conversation becomes the first step toward safety, healing, and a new beginning. Our dedicated advocates are ready to listen, respond, and connect individuals and families with the resources they need. Every call matters. Every conversation can change a life.

EMERGENCY SHELTER

Heartly House's emergency shelter provides a refuge for survivors of intimate partner violence, sexual assault, child abuse, and human trafficking. More than a temporary place to stay, the shelter offers compassionate and confidential support through case management, group counseling, safety planning, advocacy, and connections to essential community resources. Our dedicated staff helps survivors rebuild their lives, regain independence, and move toward a future defined by hope, healing, and safety.

"The Frederick Police Department's partnership with the Heartly House is invaluable to members of the community. It would not be an exaggeration to say that officers with the Frederick Police Department respond to reports of domestic disturbances daily. Our partnership with the Heartly House allows us to directly contact staff members on calls for service and put them into contact with victims. This partnership is pivotal to ensure that victims of domestic violence have resources and options when staying at home may no longer be safe."

Chief of Frederick City Police

COMMUNITY BASED SERVICES

Heartly House's Community Based Services team meets survivors where they are, both physically and emotionally.

Through neighborhood satellite locations across Frederick County, we remove barriers to accessing support and build trusted relationships within the communities we serve. Survivors receive individualized advocacy, case management, safety planning, and connections to essential resources, empowering them to move toward stability, healing, and long-term independence with compassionate support every step of the way.

SERVICE COORDINATION CONTACTS

Service Coordination connects survivors with the network of support they need to move forward. By partnering with healthcare providers, schools, law enforcement, government agencies, and community organizations, Heartly House ensures survivors have access to coordinated services to reduce barriers and create a path toward safety, stability, and independence.

SERVICES FOR HUMAN TRAFFICKING SURVIVORS

Heartly House's Human Trafficking Navigator provides wraparound care for children, youth, and young adults through age 24 who have experienced human trafficking, and help them move from crisis to stability. We also provide counseling and support to secondary survivors, recognizing that the effects of trafficking extend to family members and other loved ones.

Our Regional Navigator Program ensures that survivors are connected to the resources they need using personalized guidance, screening, advocacy, and service coordination. As Co-Chair of the Frederick County Human Trafficking Response Team (HTRT), Heartly House works alongside community partners to identify survivors, strengthen coordinated responses, and raise awareness throughout Frederick County.

COUNSELING SERVICES

Heartly House provides free, confidential, trauma-informed counseling for children, adults, and secondary survivors.

Our licensed clinicians create a safe, supportive space where clients can learn ways to process the trauma they have experienced.

Trauma affects every aspect of a person's life, from emotional well-being and relationships, to physical health and a sense of safety. Through individual and group counseling, our clinicians help survivors process trauma, build resilience, develop healthy coping skills, and discover hope for what lies ahead.

LEGAL SERVICES

Our legal team helps clients navigate complex legal systems, so they never have to face them alone.

Clients who need legal assistance are embraced by a continuum of care that strengthens their recovery. Justice is not pursued in isolation, but as part of healing. Through compassion, expertise, trauma informed care, and courageous advocacy, our legal team helps survivors reclaim their voices, protect their future, and build lives free from violence.

Whether obtaining a protective order, navigating family law matters, or standing beside a survivor during criminal court proceedings, our advocates and attorneys provide knowledgeable guidance and unwavering support. Their presence gives survivors the confidence to speak, the strength to persevere, and the reassurance that someone is fighting alongside them.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT AND PREVENTION

PROJECT H.E.A.R.T.S.

Developed in collaboration with Frederick County Public Schools, Project H.E.A.R.T.S. (Healing, Empowerment, Allies, Resilience, Trust & Safety) brings trauma-informed, age-appropriate education into classrooms, after-school programs, summer experiences, and community settings. Students learn to recognize healthy and unhealthy relationships, establish boundaries, communicate with confidence, navigate digital spaces responsibly, and develop the resilience needed to thrive.

The impact extends well beyond the classroom. We help equip parents, teachers, coaches, and other trusted adults to become allies, creating a community where young people feel seen, heard, valued, and safe.

Every young person we reach is another step toward our vision of ending power-based violence in Frederick County. Prevention begins with education, healthy relationships begin with knowledge, and lasting change begins with our youth.

SURVIVOR SPEAKERS BUREAU

Now in its fourth year, the Heartly House Survivor Speakers Bureau has become a respected resource for lived-experience speakers. Twenty-four trained survivor speakers have shared their stories in Maryland, including Project H.E.A.R.T.S. in Frederick County, as well as Virginia, Florida, and Indiana. Every story shared helps break the silence surrounding power-based violence, reduces stigma, inspires optimism, and reminds survivors they are never alone.

EDUCATION, TRAINING & COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Ending power-based violence requires education, awareness, and a community committed to prevention.

Heartly House partners with businesses, colleges, government agencies, faith communities, and nonprofit organizations throughout Frederick County to provide engaging, trauma-informed training that equips participants to recognize abuse, respond to disclosures, support survivors, and foster safe, respectful environments. This year we expanded our reach through our podcast, Connect & Thrive.

ANNUAL EVENTS

At Heartly House, our events are more than fundraisers. They are moments that bring our community together to learn, advocate, celebrate, and invest in a future free from power-based violence. Each event strengthens awareness, inspires action, and ensures survivors know they are never alone.

TAKE BACK THE NIGHT

Each April, in partnership with Hood College, we gather to honor survivors during Sexual Assault Awareness Month. Through personal stories, advocacy, and a candlelight vigil, we stand together to confront sexual violence, support healing, and reaffirm our commitment to an engaged community where every survivor is heard, believed, and supported.

HEALING HEARTS CIRCLE LUNCHEON

This annual gathering celebrates the dedicated supporters whose sustained generosity makes our work possible. Members hear firsthand about Heartly House's impact, connect with fellow advocates, and introduce new friends to our mission. Together, they are building a stronger foundation of hope, healing, and safety for survivors throughout Frederick County.

COCKTAILS & CARBS

This event shows that fundraising can be meaningful, memorable, and a whole lot of fun. Guests enjoy great food, music, dancing, and a silent auction while celebrating Heartly House's impact. It's an evening where our community comes together to prove that doing good can be every bit as joyful as it is impactful.

WALK A MILE IN THEIR SHOES

Our signature awareness and fundraising event invites individuals, families, businesses, and community leaders to take a visible stand against intimate partner violence. Every step raises awareness, sparks important conversations, and provides critical resources that help Heartly House offer safety, advocacy, counseling, and support to survivors.

HOW CAN YOU HELP?

CONNECT

Become an ambassador in connecting individuals, businesses, and organizations that can amplify our impact, create more robust support networks, and address the pressing issues facing our community. Through collaboration, we can build a stronger, more unified response to power-based violence, ensuring that everyone in Frederick County can thrive.

DONATE

Contribute individually, or become a member of our Healing Hearts Circle as an individual or business partner. Your support enables us to continue providing resources, education, and support to those impacted by sexual assault, human trafficking, child abuse, and intimate partner violence.

ENGAGE

Open your home or community room to host an informational learning session. These intimate gatherings offer an opportunity to learn about power-based violence and how we can all contribute to creating a safer, more informed community.

LEARN

Schedule an onsite training at your business, club, or affiliation group to learn more about ending power-based violence. Our interactive sessions are designed to educate, empower, and provide valuable tools and resources to help create safer communities and workplaces.

Revenues and Expenses listed here represent unaudited financial information. Final audited information can be found on our FY26 990 once it is published.

"Together, through a seamless partnership, we have turned fear into courage, built trust where silence once lived, and created safe spaces for those hidden behind the walls of abuse."

A LEGACY OF HOPE

This year, Heartly House received a transformational $200,000 gift from former Congressman Roscoe Bartlett to establish the Bartlett Building Maintenance Fund.

This permanent fund will help preserve and maintain the buildings where survivors find safety, healing, and hope, ensuring these spaces remain welcoming and secure for generations to come. Congressman Bartlett's extraordinary generosity is an investment not only in our facilities, but in every survivor whose journey begins within them.

"The partnership between the Child Advocacy Center of Frederick County and Heartly House creates a stronger, more compassionate support system for children and families facing some of the most difficult moments of their lives. By working together, we help ensure families feel seen, heard, and supported from the moment they walk through our doors and throughout their healing journey. Our collaboration allows families to access critical services with greater ease and less re-traumatization while surrounding them with care, advocacy, and support. Together, we are building a safer, more connected community where children and families can begin to heal and move forward with renewed strength, resilience, and hope."

ROBIN GROVE
Director, Child Advocacy Center of Frederick County
